David,

It has been four months since you filed the case in court. I am surprised you haven't heard from them. Questions:

- (1) Have you been contacted by the court (or, registrar) at all?
- (2) Was there something missing from the documents you originally filed that caused the delay?
- (3) Have you done everything necessary, or possible, to ensure the case is not lost in the shuffle?
- (4) Once a case is filed, is it customary to follow it up? If the answer is yes, have you done so?

If there is anything else that I should know--any developments or actions you may have taken to keep the case in track--I want you to write me about that as well.

P.S. I noticed that November's cheque, which is among the batch I sent you, has not been cashed. I wonder about the reason.
